MRS. M'KAY'S CANDIDACY.

The Contest for School Commissionership in the Tenth District.

While John B. Conner has announced that he will not be in the race for re-election as school commissioner for the Tenth district, he has also said that if the office was forced upon him he would not refuse to accept it. His friends have taken this to mean that he is perfectly willing to serve, but does not care to seek the office, and they are now hustling in his interest, and will have his name on the ticket. On the other hand, the friends of Mrs. McKay take Mr. Conner's statement that he would not be a candidate as final and are busy working in her behalf. They claim this is the first opportunity the people of that district have had to vote for a woman, and think the voters should give the women a chance to show what they can do.

"There seems to be a misapprehension regarding the candidacy of Mrs. McKay," said one of her supporters in the Tenth district, where her friends are making a vigorous canvass, "which should be corrected. Almost ten days ago Mr. Conner went to Captain McKay and said to him that if his wife would be a candidate he would not be. Mrs. McKay had not thought of it, but after consulting her friends during three or four days, she concluded to be a candidate upon the assurance of Mr. Con-ner that he had concluded to retire from the board at the close of his present term. She would not have permitted the use of her name had she and her friends thought that Mr. Conner would accept an election. That she is a candidate is due to Mr. Conner's proposition to her husband. Her friends think that the voters should under-stand the matter as it is before they take

"We are making a thorough canvass for Mrs. McKay," said the Journal's in-formant, "many men as well as women taking an active part in it, and we expect to succeed. Quite a number of women who have as much interest in the schools as any citizen can have will be at the voting place next Saturday at the schoolhouse on Ash street and Home avenue."

COLLECTION OF GARBAGE.

Daily Complaints Against the Ordinance -A Man Who Sustains a Double Loss.

The garbage man is getting in his work in fine shape now. The working of the ordinance has practically the effect of confiscating private property for private uses. Lee Hanshaw, who owns a restaurant at 86 West Washington street, was before the Board of Works yesterday complaining of the way the contractor made the law cut in both ways in his case. It is only a sample of dozens of the same sort of complaints that have been lodged with the board. Mr. Hanshaw owns a farm near the city and has been feeding a number of hogs with the slop from his restaurant. Now he is not only compelled to part with his slop for nothing and pay to have it hauled away, but must buy feed for his hogs. Thus he is sustaining a double loss. Several hotels have recently made the same complaint. All the board can say to them is that it has no power to change the contract, and the men will have to look to the city garbage contractor for relief.

Aside from all this trouble complaint comes daily to the Board of Health that garbage is not removed for days at a time, even when the garbage man has been notified to take it away. It seems that the company intends to haul garbage just when its convenience is suited, and prosecute anyone who for the sake of his family's health removes it himself after the accumulations of a few weeks have warned him that it must be done. Will Go Together.

Grand Army headquarters has been requested to make provision for the entertainment of a battalion of 150 members of the posts in Huntington county at the National Encampment at Pittsburg. EPISCOPALIANS OF THIS DIOCESE IN ANNUAL CONVENTION.

Opening Session Last Night-Bishop Knickerbacker's Address-Woman's Auxiliary.

Last evening the fifty-sixth annual convention of the Episcopal Church in Indiana assembled in Grace Cathedral, this city. The congregation was large and the attendance of delegates good. The clergy of the diocese, preceded by the vested choir of the church, entered the chancel, followed by the bishop and his chaplain. Evening prayer was said by the Rev. J. Everest Cathell, of Richmond, and the lessons read by the Rev. J. D. Sterty.

After evening prayer the bishop gave his eleventh annual address, reviewing the work of the diocese for the year. He remarked that this had been the most fruitful year of his episcopate. Every branch of the work had been most prosperous. The baptisms and confirmations greater than in any previous year. The offerings, though it had been a year of great financial depression, had been larger than in any previous year for missions and benevolent purposes. The Woman's Auxiliary, Brotherhood of St. Andrew, Daughters of the King and all other parochial societies and guilds had been most active in their several stations, and the general result had been a decided advance in the work of the diocese. Never before were there so many clergymen at work in the diocese, and the faithfulness with which they were doing their work was evidenced by the large numbers presented for confirmation. The archdeacon, who received his appointment as general missionary Sept. 1, 1893, has been most active and successful in his work, making most interesting visits to the mining districts of the State, where he found many members of the Church of England to welcome him. Rev. A. W. Mann had ministered to the deaf mutes of the State. He had baptized eleven and presented the same number for confirmation. The bishop was glad to report that the revised prayer book was in general use and the new hymnal was fast being introduced. The summary of his labors for the year was as follows: Confirmations, private, 8; public, 70; total, 78; persons confirmed, 531; sermons delivered, 137; addresses, 40; celebrations of holy communion, 80; catechised and adressed Sunday-schools, 53; baptisms, adult, 3; infant, 10; total, 13; licensed lay readers, 38; ordered deacons, 1; clergy received, 10; clergy dismissed, 8; roll of honor scholars received, 60; marriages,

2; burials, 2; postulants for holy orders,
7; candidates for holy orders,
4. In closing the bishop reminded the convention that the past year concluded the first decade of his episcopate. "On the 14th day of October, 1883," said he "I was consecrated as your bishop. On the 1st day of November following I began my work at St. Paul's Church, Richmond. The ten years have passed rapidly. They work at St. Paul's Church, Richmond. The ten years have passed rapidly. They have been busy years. All our hopes and expectations have not been realized. There is not much to boast of. I have no remembrances but pleasant ones of the kindness and hospitality with which I have been welcomed to the homes of the diocese. I have learned to love Indiana and its generous-hearted people. There has been a constantly growing appreciation in my own heart of the magnificence of the State in all its material resources and the grand all its material resources and the grand opportunity offered among its two and a half million people of working for the spread of Christ's kingdom. Indiana needs the helpful, uplifting influence of our historic church. We know that it is righteousness that exalteth a State as well as the individual citizen, and our State needs more and more of the morality and Christianity taught by the Church in her civilization. The Church is growing in influence and power that as the years go on we shall see increased Let up thank Cod we shall see increased. Let us thank God and take courage. "I have to-day nothing but admiration of the generous, hearty responses and co-operation that has been extended to my every effort and request in extending the interests of our church in Indiana. In Christian education, in the founding of schools, in the occupancy of many new points in the building of mission churches, in securing and aiding candidates for the ministry, in providing for the aged and infirm elergy, in the endowment of the diocese, in improvement and restoration of all our churches, in the building of some splendid new churches and houses, the founding of St. Stephen's Hospital, the building of the Church Home I see much to thank God, much to take hope for the future. As I review these ten years my heart is full of thankfulness to Almighty God that my let hankfulness to Almighty God that my lot has been cast here, that I have been given health and strength to do the work. I am grateful for the many blessings bestowed upon the diocese, that He has given me such a strong band of faithful clergy and earnest laity. I am grateful that we have been able to pay off the debt of $7,500 owed when I came to the diocese; that we have secured $39,000 for its permanent endowment; that we have been able to found schools for boys and girls; that we have St. Stephen's Hos-pital, Richmond, ministering to the sick and doing a beneficent work; that the aged and infirm clergy fund has increased from $400 to $2,000; that our clergy and candidates for holy orders have doubled in numbers; that in at least twenty-five counties not before occupied we have started services of the church; that twenty-nine churches have been built at a cost of $170,900. churches have been built at a cost of $170,900 and fourteen rectories costing $45,800, twelve parish houses, $52,300; total added to the property of the diocese, $356,000. The confirmations, 4,800; baptisms, adults, 1,312; infants, 3,926; total, 5,439; parochial contributions, $804,023; diocesan, $97,249; for objects outside the diocese, $16,965; total, $918,238, an average of $91,821 per annum; number of communicants, 6,500; Sunday-school teachers, 400; scholars, 3,500; valuation of church property, present-time church, $652,176; rectories, $107,250; parishes, 43; organized missions, 25. God be praised for all this, and may the second decade upon which we are now entering be productive property of the diocese, $356,000. The conwhich we are now entering be productive of still greater good. May bishops, priests and people be animated by a deep and loving desire to do all that they may to advance the recognition of the Divine Savior in the hearts of their fellow-men, and the kingdom of Christ go forward to possess this land."

THE WOMAN'S AUXILIARY. Proceedings of the Tenth Annual Conference Yesterday. The tenth annual meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Protestant Episcopal Church in Indiana held its meeting in Grace Cathedral all day yesterday, beginning with a celebration of the holy communion by the bishop of the diocese at 10:30, and a sermon by Rev. A. A. Abbott, of Evansville. The archdeacon of the diocese, Rev. L. F. Cole, made an interesting address on some of his experience as a general missionary, indicating how dependant he was on the co-operation of the women in towns he visited. Luncheon was served in the guild room and a happy hour was spent after the luncheon in lis-tening to brief addresses from the clergy

At 2 p. m., the assembly resumed its sessions in the church and listened to the annual report of the secretary, Miss Emily L. Upfold, who also gave a review of the work for ten years. The statistics, in brief, were as follows: Seventeen organized branches in indiana contributed for missions during this period, $10,174; value of boxes donated, $6,016; total, $16,191. Contributed the past year, cash, $1,318; woman's work in the parishes thirty-two re-ports; number of enrolled members, 1,249; amount contributed past year, $8,209; in ten ing an address on the important work of this club in supplying literature to the mis-sionary clergy. Mrs. Abbott, of Evansville, in an interesting paper, gave a report of the Daughters of the King. Mrs. J. R. Nichols spoke of the opportunities for wom-en's work in the church in Indiana and the motives that should underlie it all. The attendance was large, delegates being in attendance from many parishes outside the

UNION TRUST COMPANY.

The Stockholders' Annual Meeting Yesterday-Directors Re-Elected.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Union Trust Company yesterday morning a report was received from the board of directors concerning the business of the company during the past year. The old directors, consisting of A. C. Harris, Sterling R. Holt, George Kothe, Henry C. Long, Volney T. Malott, Edward L. McKee, Samuel E. Rauh, John H. Holliday, Thomas C. Day, all of this city, and Charles H. Brownell, of Peru; N. T. DePauw, of New Albany, and I. C. Elston, of Crawfordsville, were re-elected, with the exception of N. T. DePauw and A. C. Harris, whose business engagements caused them to resign. John M. Butler and S. A. Culbertson, of New Albany, were elected to fill these vacancies. The board of directors will meet to-day to elect officers for the coming year. General Harrison presided at yesterday's meeting and J. K. Woodward, of New Albany, acted as secretary. Three-fourths of the stock of the company was represented.

GRAND LODGE'S WORK

THE KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS PUT IN A BUSY DAY.

The Grand Chancellor's Report-Condition of the Order-Officers Elected-The Pythian Sisters.

At Odd Fellows' Hall, yesterday morning, the twenty-fifth session of the Grand Lodge of Knights of Pythias convened, with over three hundred delegates present. The first business of the session was the conferring of degrees upon three hundred new past chancellors. The Grand Lodge degree was conferred by Grand Prelate C. F. S. Neal, of Lebanon. The report of Grand Chancellor James E. Watson occupied the entire morning. It was complete and ably written. The grand chancellor paid a high compliment to the grand keeper of records and seals, Frank Bowers, and praised the labors of his deputies and of the committee on constitution and by-laws in high terms. He was proud to report that during the year he had presided at the dedication of thirteen castle halls, besides delivering thirty-seven addresses on Pythianism. While the growth of the order in the State had not been phenomenal, he attributed this to the financial condition of the country; but, notwithstanding this fact, the gain for the year had been ten lodges, with an active membership in the State of 35,000, which shows an increase for the year of 2,500. A gratifying degree of harmony prevails over the State and there is a wave of enthusiasm regarding the new third degree. The grand chancellor referred proudly to the district assemblages, and recommended legislation that would make these meetings permanent. He called attention to the endowment rank for insurance, which has a membership of 1,149. The endowment fund is now $2,032,000. Last year the total benefits paid amounted to $227,000.

Of the Uniform Rank and the success of James R. Carnahan, commander of the World's Brigade, the grand chancellor has much to say. The Uniform Rank now numbers 50,000 over the country, while the Indiana Brigade, under command of James R. Ross, numbers 3,249 knights. Mr. Watson thought that the Grand Lodge could afford to make an appropriation of $300 to send a committee to Washington in August to secure for Indiana the Supreme Lodge meeting in 1896. He also recommended that the Uniformed Rank be assisted to Washington by an appropriation of $500. In touching upon matters relative to the contemplated castle hall here the grand chancellor recommended that the Grand Lodge assume the responsibility of erecting the building. At present there is a debt of $17,000 on the lot, with available assets of only $13,000, payable during a period of three years and costing $3,000 to collect. While he believed the present association had labored industriously to accomplish its object, the financial depression was against it, and he feared that it would fail in the end. It was recommended that a committee of five be appointed by the Grand Lodge, with full power to represent the body. In con-cluding his report the grand chancellor said: "Let us not forget that this order is dis the tus not forget that this order is dis-tinctly an American institution; that it could not have had an existence in any other nation of the world's history; that the fraternity of our order flows as nat-urally from the liberty and equality of our country as the brightness of noonday fol-lows the gray of the dawn; and in so remembering let us show to the world that patriotism, no less than friendship, charity and benevolence, is one of the foundation principles of our order."

The report of the grand master of exchequer was heard with interest. It showed the past year's receipts to be $17,479.33, and the gross balance on hand, $26,476.14. The total receipts of lodges for the year was $278,295.04, and the total relief amounted to $85,111.82. The assets of the order amount The report of the grand keeper of records and seals was exhaustive and complete in detail. It showed the value of real estate owned by the the order in the State to be $150,000 furniture and paraphernalia, $191,-Yesterday afternoon the report of the committee on grievances and appeals was heard, after which the delegates proceeded to the election of grand officers. This resulted as follows: Grand Chancellor—James M. Hatfield Huntington. Grand Vice Chancellor-C. F. S. Neal, Grand Prelate-Otto Kolb, Boonville. Grand Master-at-Arms-Erastus Peacock.

Grand Master of Exchequer-A. W. Morris, Frankfort.
The election of a grand prelate excited considerable interest, the contest centering upon C. S. Denny, of this city, and Otto Kolb, of Boonville, Mr. Kolb finally securing the office by twenty-five votes.

To-day's session will be devoted largely to the transaction of routine business. The report of the grand chancellor will be discussed, and it is expected that the ques-tion of the legality of district meetings will be productive of much warm argument. It is said that Senator McDonald, of Ligonier, will introduce an amendment to the constitution rescinding the law that prevents the soliciting of votes for grand lodge candidates by letter. The resolution, it is expected, will be met with heated opposition. The Castle Hall matter will also be disposed of to-day.

Last night, at English's Opera House, the visiting knights were the guests of Star Lodge, of this city. Exemplification of the first and third degree work was given.

THE GOVERNOR'S CLEMENCY.

John Wilhelm and Julia Schrott the Recipients of It Yesterday.

John Wilhelm, sent to the Prison North in May, 1893, for stealing some tools out of the Big Four shops in Haughville, was paroled by Governor Matthews yesterday. Wilhelm is nearly sixty years old and has been a "trusty" in the northern prison, where he attracted the attention of the Governor on the occasion of the last visit of the executive to the prison. He was formerly employed by the Big Four, and while intoxicated committed the theft for which he was sent up. His family in Haughville has been in a distressing condition. The wife is now sick at the City Hospital, and the children are a charge on the county. Wilhelm's time would have been out in a few months more, and it was deemed a case worthy of executive

The Governor also pardoned from the Marion county workhouse Julia Schrott, who was sentenced early in April for three months for stealing some chairs and a table. It seems that she and bought some furniture on the installment pan, and, her money giving out, was unable to pay rent, and was bundled out on the sidewark, most of her furniture being taken from her. She entered an empty house, where the family was away at the time, and, taking Miss Howland presented the work of the Periodical Club, Rev. William Lund mak-

THE CHANGE IN SEVENTEEN CITIES MAKES INDIANA REPUBLICAN.

Some Striking Facts Regarding the Loss of Votes Through Ignorance About Stamping.

The Journal has returns from eighty cities and towns which held their elections May 1 and 7. Most of these cannot be compared with the vote in them in November, 1892, or even when the preceding local elections were held in them, but the few in which such comparisons can be made present comparisons which are not odious to Republicans, as the following figures show:

Cities. Vote Nov. 1892. Vote Nov. 1894. Fort Wayne.....3,230 R. 4,088 2,490 4,126 1,789 3,239 2,867 721 980 1,630 Lafayette2,268 2,454 Terre Haute......4,051 Logansport1,702 South Bend3,006 3,629 3,274 705 887 787 New Albany......2,596 2,064 572 583 959 384 803 1,590 739 811 476 478 357 Valparaiso 760 Wabash 1,261 Elkhart 873 449 866 1,903 1,063 725 1,013 Alexandria 487 Elwood 730 Anderson 2,141 1,279 2,114 1,453 578 824 Washington 559

The change in these seventeen cities wipes out the Democratic plurality in the State in 1892 and leaves something over. Moreover, the Republican vote in these cities in May was 1,241 in excess of the Republican vote therein in the presidential election of 1892, while the Democratic vote was 6,277 less. The Populist and Prohibition vote in any of these cities was not a factor of any im-

RESULTS IN SMALLER TOWNS. The returns from many of the smaller cities giving the votes of each of the candilates and the gains or losses, compared with previous elections, are given as follows: Hartford City, with a total vote of 993, reports an average Republican gain of 225 over 1892; Greencastle, a Republican gain of 112 over 1892 on a total vote of 873; Lawrenceburg, average Republican majority in 1894 261, and a gain of 345 compared with the municipal vote of 1891 in a total of 1,074; Tipton shows a Republican gain of 50 votes, compared with 1892; Auburn shows a Republican gain of 50 votes, compared with 1892; Auburn shows a Republican gain of 50; Sullivan reports 80 Democrats voting with the Republicans in a total vote of 495; Greenfield reports an average Republican gain of 75, compared with 1892; Angola shows a Republican gain of 53, compared with 1892; Fremont reports a majority of 47 in a vote of 102, but will "whoop it" up to 150 in November; Grand View changed a Democratic majority of 3 in 1892 to 15 Republican; Middletown reports a Republican majority of 96 and a gain of a Republican majority of 96 and a gain of 38 in a total of 236; Monticello shows a majority of 72 and a gain of 66; Newburg shows a gain of 25 in a total vote of 264; Columbia City shows a Republican gain of 39 in a vote of 544. One of the most noticeable features in the returns is the number of ballots reject-ed for being improperly stamped, as the following examples of rejected votes show:

"The number given includes all tickets the stamp on which indicated that the voter did not know how to stamp properly. Many stamped the first name on the ticket, which seemed to indicate their intention to vote the entire ticket, but, of course, voted for Mayor only. There were about 20 with distinguishing marks."

The foregoing samples show that if the mistakes were all made by one party there would be enough in the State to defeat the ticket for which a majority actually voted if its actual voters were not at least ten thousand more numerous than the real mi-nority. These are mistakes resulting chief-ly from ignorance, which can be avoided if proper attention is given to instructing voters regarding the stamping and folding

LYON'S SEVEN WONDERS

WHAT IS IT?

A remedy that is an absolute cure for Indigestion, Dyspepsia, and all troubles arising from any derangement of the Stomach. It is also a specific for Blood, Nerves, Liver and Kidneys.

LYON'S SEVEN WONDERS are composed of seven of the most useful ingredients known to medical science, each one being a specific in its action, and the whole combined forming the most wonderful remedy ever offered to the public. Before being placed on the market this remedy was put into the hands of twelve different physicians (who were reliably informed as to its ingredients), each of whom were enthusiastic as to its merits and curative powers in diseases of the Blood, Nerves, Liver and Stomach.

Please bear in mind LYON'S SEVEN WONDERS is one of the very few remedies that bears the indorsement of well-known physicians. They act directly on the diseased organs, restore you to health, fill you with new life, vigor and renewed ambition. They produce sound and refreshing sleep, and cause you to arise of mornings feeling like a new being.

What Dr. Washburn Says About This Remedy, It May Interest You.

NEW RICHMOND, Ind., April 17, 1893.

In regard to the remedy, whose title is Lyon's Seven Wonders, and of whose composition I am thoroughly acquainted with, having used it in cases of Amenorrhoea and Suppression of Menses, and as a general tonic to the nervous system, I consider it has few equals. I can heartily recommend it. D. M. WASHBURN, M. D.

Office of Dr. N. C. Davis, FRANKFORT, Ind., March 28, 1893.

Lyon Medicine Co., India: epolis, Ind.:

Gentlemen—Physicians, as a rule, do not make a business of recommending proprietary medicines, but when one of merit presents itself I deem it my duty to recognize it. Being reliably informed as to the ingredients that enter into LYON'S SEVEN WONDERS, I do not hesitate to say it is a valuable remedy and heartily indorse it as a Wonderful Nerve Stimulant. Also, I have used it in cases of stomach disorder and found it to be of great value, effecting cures where other preparations failed. You are at liberty to use this letter in any manner you see fit. Yours very truly, DR. N. C. DAVIS.

A Member of the U. S. Congress.

What Dr. Davis Says.

Hon. Dan Waugh, member of Congress from the Ninth district, Indiana, says:
After receiving the benefits I have from the use of Lyon's Seven Wonders, I take pleasure in saying a few words in its favor. For years I suffered with Indigestion and Stomach trouble. I used various remedies, but found nothing that gave me relief until
I used Lyon's Seven Wonders, which seemed to impart life and vigor to the entire system. I therefore give it my unqualified praise. Yours, etc.,

DAN WAUGH, Tipton, Ind. The Business Man's Statement.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., May 2, 1894.

Lyon Medicine Company, Indianapolis, Ind.: Gentlemen—It is with pleasure that I can conscientiously say a good word for Lyon's Seven Wonders. For more than a year I was troubled with Indigestion and Stomach Disorders. Various remedies which I tried gave me no relief, until one day last summer I was told by a brother drummer of the virtues of Lyon's Seven Wonders. I concluded to try it, and am happy to say one box, costing only $1, entirely cured me. To those who suffer as I did 1 would strongly advise them to use Lyon's Seven Wonders. Yours truly,

Lyon Medicine Company, Indianapolis, Ind.:

My experience with Lyon's Seven Wonders justifies me in saying that it is a health restorer of the highest degree. Last January, after having la grippe, I was left in that weakened condition which so commonly followed that disease. After trying remedies without any relief, I commenced taking Lyon's Seven Wonders, one after each meal, and the third box had completely restored my health. I now feel better than I have for years. This remedy does certainly give new life and vigor to the entire system. I can cheerfully recommend it. Yours truly,

W. C. BURK.

Lyon Medicine Company, Indianapolis, Ind.:

Gentlemen—I began taking Lyon's Seven Wonders some time since for a very bad case of nervous dyspepsia and insomnia, and I am glad to state that it is doing for me what all other remedies (tried by me) failed to do—cure me. I have about finished my third box and I am more than pleased with its results, and I can cheerfully recommend it to all suffering with nervous dyspepsia as a first-class medicine and one that has merit. You are at liberty to use this letter in any manner you may see fit, as I am anxious, indeed, to have every one know, who suffers with this dreadful disease, how to get well. Very truly yours, G. R. RHOADS, 885 North Mississippi street, city.

Lyon Medicine Company, Indianapolis, Ind.:

Dear Sirs—I wish to speak a kind word for Lyon's Seven Wonders. During an attack of la grippe from which I suffered greatly with stomach trouble, loss of appetite and general feelings, I was induced by a friend to try your remedy, who said it would remove all those troubles. I admit I did not have much faith in them, but tried a box, and one box made me feel like a new man and did all my friend claimed they would. I believe them to be a long-felt want in the medicine line. Yours, J. W. CASKEY, very truly Conductor Vandalia Line.
